Thoughtforms

Every single thought you think creates an astral form. Except most of your thoughts will perish within seconds of creation. So instead let's learn how to collectively create a proper lasting being. First step is the idea. Every thoughtform needs a starting idea or objective (Ebola-Chan's objective was to spread the ebola virus). I'm not going to be giving more examples because any idea you can think of is possible to turn into a thoughtform nomtter what it is or what it does. It can even just be a glorified sex doll.

Second step is to form the body of the thoughtform. Start to visualize a fog of energy in your mind which is absorbing not only your energy but the idea you are giving it. Vocaly speak to this form and tell the ball of energy what you want it to do or what the thoughtforms purpose is.

With proper visualization abilities you will be able to give your thoughtform an astral form of your choosing, human, pony, alien, animal, etc.

Extra information. Giving your thoughtform a name is advisable. Especially if you are going to be collectively working on it. Also giving your thoughtform a sigil is suggestible since this allows for easy connection to the egregore. As we see Ebola-Chan's sigil is the head piece symbol.

Feeding your thoughtform. Just like humans, thoughtforms require energy to grow big and powerful. Emotion is the most easily transferable energy source. Summon your thoughtform in imagination and start to conjure up emotions of love or lust, gratitude or anger. This will be transferred by imaginative visualization. You can also plan group fap sessions with your board. Thinking of the thoughtform or its sigil while performing energy exchanges will feed it in this manner.

More information on thoughtforming and sigils

Trace, gnosis, theta brainwave state

You might have heard some of these words before. Essentially for all magical practices you are required to enter a deep meditative state. This can be acquired from 5-10 minutes of focusing on your breath and slowly breathing deeply. I advise you to do this before any practice to smooth out visualization and bring more power to your rituals.

Back to thoughtforms

Your thoughts hold power. Emotion is the key to igniting and fueling these thoughts. The more people contributing emotion and energy, the stronger these will become. So collectively you can achieve great feats.

Let's talk a little more on the sigil of your thoughtform. Think of these like a symbolic portal to connecting with the egregore. Once the egregore sigil has been created, your group can all enter a collective state of gnosis, stare at the sigil and then channel direct emotion into it. This could include feeling utmost love for your creation, or even a group fap with everyone staring at it. The rules are any directed emotion.

Evocation/Summoning

Evocation is the act of connecting ritualistically to your thoughtform. This will allow you to enter direct conversation with the thoughtform. You may ask it questions and even command it to perform your desires. To evocate a spirit or egregore, first draw or print of the sigil (preferably do this with a black marker). Next enter a state of gnosis, you should see tv static. Stare into the sigil until the lines start to glow or vibrate. Your vision might fog up. Speak the egregores name and ask it to come "come Ebola-Chan, come Ebola-Chan". Repeat this for a minute until you feel you have made sufficient contact. This is very easy but due to the subtle nature of it you probably won't think you've contacted it (it does not matter if you can't see or hear it). Trust me that you have. Once the above procedure has been performed, start to talk to your egregore, visualize what you desire it to do. You might be able to see the egregore in your imagination and even begin to get messages if you are sensitive enough. Do not analyze or interject any of these messages since they will come rapidly.

Final information on evocation and how your egregore can grow passively

Banishing

Please do banish before and after every evocation. You don't want some terrorizing spirit lurking around your home. The simplest method for this would be creating charged water. Put your hands in a container of salt water and imagine white or gold light flowing into it. Set the intention for it to banish any entities. Then sprinkle this around the ritual area.

Passive egregore gain

Ever wonder how your less than capable board members can still become useful in this? All you need to do is get them to spread exposure of the egregore. This can be done through any means which gets people seeing and thinking of it. Examples are hentai, catchy songs, moe art work, or memes. This is how spreading memes has been such an effective method, but also has directed its purpose. Exposing the egregore sigil is the most important part. Ever wonder why large companies try to advertise their symbol everywhere? it's because they are planting secret subconscious viruses into your mind.

Mantas

Ever heard your local monks chanting 'Om namah shivaya' or 'Hare krnsha'? Well your board can make a mantra just like this for whatever disgusting or absurd creation you wish to bring into reality. "I love you Ebola-Chan" and "Thankyou Ebola-Chan" are perfect examples of mantras to repeat. Some monks repeat these thousands of times per day. Are you that dedicated to your waifu egregore?

Stay tuned for how to use magic for your own personal gain and not just the collective mass of chaos.

Magick for personal gain and a summary

Lesser magic

If you're an intuitive person you might have realized that all of these methods are just creating an idea and then condensing it on what we would call an astral or mental plane from visualization and energy(emotion).

Reality creation visualization

Desire to change reality via imagination? While in our favoured state of gnosis or conveniently before going to sleep, start to visualize a change in reality that you wish to make happen. This might be getting a job, finding love, learning skills, aquiring rare objects, anything really. Play the scene out as if you've already got what you want. Start to visualize a movie like scene of you achiving this objective, immerse yours in it. Start to pour absolute gratitude and joy into this visualization. As we've previously discussed, emotion will feed your magic and give it strength. Repeat this every day multiple times untill your wish is fulfilled.

Taking a step back

If you are a crafty neophyte you will have deduced that all of our previous methods will work for your own hedonistic and degenerate desires. So why don't i simplify for those who can't pick it up and run with.

Lesser magic master key

First pick a phrase of what it is you wish to make happen or change about your own reality or yourself. This needs to be current tense so no wills or wants. Only use words like I have, I am, etc. Negative words like "no" and "not" are disallowed since our subconscious does not register those. Thirdly for a little trick. Try to think of an oposite pole of what you want to change. Examples are instead of using "I do not want to be fearful" we would use "I am courageous". "I have a well paying job" "x person loves me" "Ebola-Chan killed x ammount of people on x day at x location"etc.

Lesser magic master key part 2

Welcome back

Previously we discussed making a master affirmations or phrase of importance. In this lesson we will discuss how to perform rituals with these phrases.

Sigils

Take your phrase then remove all the vowels and repeating letters. "Praise Ebola-Chan" Turns into "prsbchn". From these letters we can construct a symbolic picture which can later be focused on in a gnosis state to "charge". Charging can be done from any emotional release as previously discussed in our earlier tutorials, or through any means of attention and focus. You might hear about people who masturbate onto sigils. Yes, it works.

This is a quick example of some sigils which could be created from these letters. Try to make your sigils look intangible and arcane. Look at old goecia spirits for inspiration. The sigil to the left is one of Franz Bardons. This will show how elaborate they can Technically this comes under a branch called "Autosuggestion". Autosuggestion is to repeat a mantra(phrase) to yourself around 40 times every night before going to sleep or every morning before waking up. Or in a gnosis state. This ingrains the suggestion deep into your subconscious and will eventually manifest into reality. (These are my favourite. Use and abuse them).

Mantras again

Just like how we used mantras to power up our egregores, we can also repeat affirmation/ powerful phrases to bring them into reality. The above methods for expending emotions/energy will work for this method as well(along with all other rituals).

Now you're a wizard!

Earnest Desires, Confident Expectation, Firm demand

1.Have a Definite ideal. 2.Insistently desire it. 3.Confidently expect to obtain it. 4.Be persistently determined. 5.Give Proper compensation.

All we are doing is creating an idea of what we want reality to do, the reality we want it to move into. We are creating a template via visualization, language or symbolism. Then fueling it with emotional energy until it is strong enough to manifest in the physical world. All thoughts must puncture the heavens before they can descend upon earth.

I'm not asking you to trust me. I'm asking you to trust your own results, the results that are all around you.

Try this yourself and find out that reality is not as you've been lied to in school or other programs your government has put you through.

I come from the lands of /x/ to warn you of the chaos your board is bringing to the world. Do you think memes are mere banter? They're not.

>/pol/ memes ebola chan, sickness kill thousands and only stop when the meme got stale
>/pol/ memes cuckoldry, cuck becomes mainstream
>/pol/ memes trump and hes in 1st place
>/pol/ memes baul and a crane crashes into mecca
>/ftv/ memes bane and a plane crashes near les baines
>/9k/ memes beta uprising into existence
>/mu/ memes lemmy into dying

This magic is known as Egregore, collective hivemind thoughts becoming reality. It's the same magic behind SJW's and Jews, but only you use it as your chaos playground. Several of our divinators on /x/ foresaw terrorist attacks today at night in Europe, and your memeing is the main cause of it.

What we all ask is for your board to stop memeing for 1 day, it's all it takes to save thousands of lives. Please think on this.

KEK

Kek is the primordial concept of darkness in the ancient Egyptian religion.

He embodies the time right before the dawn, making him the Bringer of Light.

Kek is portrayed as a man with the head of a frog.

The hieroglyphic spelling of Kek resembles a man sitting in front of a computer monitor and tower.
